ONE MOMENT CAN CHANGE A FUTURE
“We don’t live in the best neighborhood and I didn’t want my kids home alone after school. Now, they are in a United Way after-school program. I feel so much better knowing they are not only supervised, but they are doing homework, reading and spending time with people who are a good influence on them.”

Justin

“I called 2-1-1 because I can’t drive anymore and I needed help getting to my doctor’s appointments. They found transportation for me and also told me about home-delivered meals. I love the volunteer who delivers my meals. She always sticks around and talks with me for a while.”

Rhonda

“The best thing about United Way THRIVE is that it touches so many different parts of your life. I started in a job-training program and went on to get my taxes done and take financial education classes. It’s not just a band-aid, it actually helps you change your situation.”

Tyler

“You make days like this possible.

Your generosity means that every day, in every corner of our community, United Way is here, transforming individual lives and improving the quality of life we all enjoy.

“I struggled with reading and, sometimes, I felt embarrassed at school. My tutor helped me learn tips and ways to improve my reading. We practice a lot and now, I’m not afraid to read out loud in class.”

“I made days like this possible.”

“I don’t live in the best neighborhood and I didn’t want my kids home alone after school. Now, they are in a United Way after-school program. I feel so much better knowing they are not only supervised, but they are doing homework, reading and spending time with people who are a good influence on them.”

Justin

“I called 2-1-1 because I can’t drive anymore and I needed help getting to my doctor’s appointments. They found transportation for me and also told me about home-delivered meals. I love the volunteer who delivers my meals. She always sticks around and talks with me for a while.”

Rhonda

“The best thing about United Way THRIVE is that it touches so many different parts of your life. I started in a job-training program and went on to get my taxes done and take financial education classes. It’s not just a band-aid, it actually helps you change your situation.”

Tyler

“You make days like this possible.

Your generosity means that every day, in every corner of our community, United Way is here, transforming individual lives and improving the quality of life we all enjoy.

“I struggled with reading and, sometimes, I felt embarrassed at school. My tutor helped me learn tips and ways to improve my reading. We practice a lot and now, I’m not afraid to read out loud in class.”

“I made days like this possible.”
A man who had been laid off is getting ready to start a new—and better—job, thanks to the training he got through United Way THRIVE.

United Way THRIVE gave 6,900 individuals the tools they needed to reenter the workforce last year.

A recently returned veteran calls the 2-1-1 Texas/United Way HELPLINE to find help transitioning back into civilian life.

The 2-1-1 Texas/United Way HELPLINE answered more than 15,000 calls from veterans and their families last year.

A couple sits down with a banker to open their first bank account. After months of financial coaching and credit repair, they are ready to start saving for their kids to go to college.

Last year, nearly 10,600 families received financial coaching and education through United Way THRIVE.

A mom drops her toddler off at a United Way Bright Beginnings child care center, where her child not only gets quality care, but is also building the foundation that will prepare him to start school.

Last year, United Way Bright Beginnings alumni outperformed their peers on the Stanford Math and Reading assessments and the STAAR Math and Reading assessments.

A family is getting help after losing their home and everything they own to a fire.

Last year, United Way helped 962,000 people rebuild their lives after natural disasters, domestic violence, job loss and other family emergencies.

A teenager is ready to ace a test because her mentor helped her study, build confidence and stay on the right track.

United Way mentors made a difference in the lives of 3,250 young people last year.

A homebound senior enjoys a nutritious meal and the company of a caring volunteer who stays to chat and make sure the senior is doing well.

Last year, United Way helped more than 91,000 seniors with meals, transportation, help with daily life and more.

A second grader sounds out words with her United Way Reading Together volunteer reading buddy.

Last year, United Way Reading Together helped 150 students improve their reading skills.

A fifth grader and a third grader build reading skills and confidence together as the fifth grader leads a tutoring session in their school library.

Last year, 150 students benefitted from peer-to-peer mentoring in Learning Together.

A family sits down to dinner in a home that they own, thanks to United Way THRIVE.

United Way THRIVE helped more than 52,000 families on the path to financial stability last year.

A homebound senior enjoys a nutritious meal and the company of a caring volunteer who stays to chat and make sure the senior is doing well.

Last year, United Way helped more than 91,000 seniors with meals, transportation, help with daily life and more.

A recently returned veteran calls the 2-1-1 Texas/United Way HELPLINE to find help transitioning back into civilian life.

The 2-1-1 Texas/United Way HELPLINE answered more than 15,000 calls from veterans and their families last year.

A homebound senior enjoys a nutritious meal and the company of a caring volunteer who stays to chat and make sure the senior is doing well.

Last year, United Way helped more than 91,000 seniors with meals, transportation, help with daily life and more.

A family sits down with a banker to open their first bank account. After months of financial coaching and credit repair, they are ready to start saving for their kids to go to college.

Last year, nearly 10,600 families received financial coaching and education through United Way THRIVE.

A mom drops her toddler off at a United Way Bright Beginnings child care center, where her child not only gets quality care, but is also building the foundation that will prepare him to start school.

Last year, United Way Bright Beginnings alumni outperformed their peers on the Stanford Math and Reading assessments and the STAAR Math and Reading assessments.

A teenager is ready to ace a test because her mentor helped her study, build confidence and stay on the right track.

United Way mentors made a difference in the lives of 3,250 young people last year.

A second grader sounds out words with her United Way Reading Together volunteer reading buddy.

Last year, United Way Reading Together helped 150 students improve their reading skills.

A fifth grader and a third grader build reading skills and confidence together as the fifth grader leads a tutoring session in their school library.

Last year, 150 students benefitted from peer-to-peer mentoring in Learning Together.

A family sits down to dinner in a home that they own, thanks to United Way THRIVE.

United Way THRIVE helped more than 52,000 families on the path to financial stability last year.

A homebound senior enjoys a nutritious meal and the company of a caring volunteer who stays to chat and make sure the senior is doing well.

Last year, United Way helped more than 91,000 seniors with meals, transportation, help with daily life and more.

A recently returned veteran calls the 2-1-1 Texas/United Way HELPLINE to find help transitioning back into civilian life.

The 2-1-1 Texas/United Way HELPLINE answered more than 15,000 calls from veterans and their families last year.

A homebound senior enjoys a nutritious meal and the company of a caring volunteer who stays to chat and make sure the senior is doing well.

Last year, United Way helped more than 91,000 seniors with meals, transportation, help with daily life and more.

A family sits down with a banker to open their first bank account. After months of financial coaching and credit repair, they are ready to start saving for their kids to go to college.

Last year, nearly 10,600 families received financial coaching and education through United Way THRIVE.

A mom drops her toddler off at a United Way Bright Beginnings child care center, where her child not only gets quality care, but is also building the foundation that will prepare him to start school.

Last year, United Way Bright Beginnings alumni outperformed their peers on the Stanford Math and Reading assessments and the STAAR Math and Reading assessments.

A teenager is ready to ace a test because her mentor helped her study, build confidence and stay on the right track.

United Way mentors made a difference in the lives of 3,250 young people last year.

A second grader sounds out words with her United Way Reading Together volunteer reading buddy.

Last year, United Way Reading Together helped 150 students improve their reading skills.

A fifth grader and a third grader build reading skills and confidence together as the fifth grader leads a tutoring session in their school library.

Last year, 150 students benefitted from peer-to-peer mentoring in Learning Together.

A family sits down to dinner in a home that they own, thanks to United Way THRIVE.

United Way THRIVE helped more than 52,000 families on the path to financial stability last year.

A homebound senior enjoys a nutritious meal and the company of a caring volunteer who stays to chat and make sure the senior is doing well.

Last year, United Way helped more than 91,000 seniors with meals, transportation, help with daily life and more.

A recently returned veteran calls the 2-1-1 Texas/United Way HELPLINE to find help transitioning back into civilian life.

The 2-1-1 Texas/United Way HELPLINE answered more than 15,000 calls from veterans and their families last year.

A homebound senior enjoys a nutritious meal and the company of a caring volunteer who stays to chat and make sure the senior is doing well.

Last year, United Way helped more than 91,000 seniors with meals, transportation, help with daily life and more.

A family sits down with a banker to open their first bank account. After months of financial coaching and credit repair, they are ready to start saving for their kids to go to college.

Last year, nearly 10,600 families received financial coaching and education through United Way THRIVE.

A mom drops her toddler off at a United Way Bright Beginnings child care center, where her child not only gets quality care, but is also building the foundation that will prepare him to start school.

Last year, United Way Bright Beginnings alumni outperformed their peers on the Stanford Math and Reading assessments and the STAAR Math and Reading assessments.

A teenager is ready to ace a test because her mentor helped her study, build confidence and stay on the right track.

United Way mentors made a difference in the lives of 3,250 young people last year.

A second grader sounds out words with her United Way Reading Together volunteer reading buddy.

Last year, United Way Reading Together helped 150 students improve their reading skills.

A fifth grader and a third grader build reading skills and confidence together as the fifth grader leads a tutoring session in their school library.

Last year, 150 students benefitted from peer-to-peer mentoring in Learning Together.

A family sits down to dinner in a home that they own, thanks to United Way THRIVE.

United Way THRIVE helped more than 52,000 families on the path to financial stability last year.

A homebound senior enjoys a nutritious meal and the company of a caring volunteer who stays to chat and make sure the senior is doing well.

Last year, United Way helped more than 91,000 seniors with meals, transportation, help with daily life and more.

A recently returned veteran calls the 2-1-1 Texas/United Way HELPLINE to find help transitioning back into civilian life.

The 2-1-1 Texas/United Way HELPLINE answered more than 15,000 calls from veterans and their families last year.

A homebound senior enjoys a nutritious meal and the company of a caring volunteer who stays to chat and make sure the senior is doing well.

Last year, United Way helped more than 91,000 seniors with meals, transportation, help with daily life and more.

A family sits down with a banker to open their first bank account. After months of financial coaching and credit repair, they are ready to start saving for their kids to go to college.

Last year, nearly 10,600 families received financial coaching and education through United Way THRIVE.